Outside Resource People

The Board of Education (Richmond) recognizes that the people of the community are one of the greatest resources of the Richmond public school system, and that they have special knowledge and talents to contribute to the instructional programme. The Board therefore encourages the use of community resources and citizens to support and enrich the work of the schools.

The Board also supports research projects, presentations, appeals, or contributions by organizations for the benefit of students, the schools, or the district.

The use of outside resource people shall be governed by regulations approved by the Superintendent of Schools. Volunteers shall not be used to perform work for which they do not possess a qualification that may be required by law.

In the case of a visiting speaker, the classroom teacher is expected to notify the building principal at least one week before the expected visit takes place, as a matter of courtesy.
